

O.P JEWELLERY x HERR JUDIT FOR WE ACT SWEDEN

Peace signet ring launched for acceptance!

Ring sales to contribute to charitable organisations that champion positive inclusivity.

A peace ring in sterling silver has been designed and launched by a Stockholm based duo of craftsman and stylist as a celebration of unity and inclusion. Herr Judit and O.P Jewellery, are passionate flag bearers of inclusive movements that build bridges between people, no matter their beliefs and orientation.

“For some time O.P Jewellery and Herr Judit have thought about a collaboration that would not only marry our respective styles through jewellery, but something that would act as a beacon for solidarity.” said Christian Quaglia, owner, stylist and director of Herr Judit. “Ola (a partner at O.P Jewellery) and I have been working together for some time. We are both parents and share the same concern for where the world is heading. It is our belief that one needs to work to bring positive change. Now more than ever it feels that the peace and unity message needs to be shared.”
The form of this message is a beautiful contemporary piece of jewellery that gives a slight nod to the 1970’s for inspiration. The ring is not only a graphic illustration of togetherness but for every ring sold 400sek will be donated to the organisation We Act Sweden that is working to promote the positivity of peace and human rights.

“The ring is a reminder of messages synonymous with progress: make love not war; respect; equal rights.” said Quaglia. “More than that however, the ring is a celebration of all of the brave individuals that every day fight for the rights of others. We believe that our individual differences are a beautiful thing and we love a multi ethnic and open society.”

The ring is available for 1495 SEK and 1695 SEK depending on size, at Herr Judit, Brandstationen, Hornsgatan 64, Stockholm, Sweden and online at opjewellery.com
